WESTCHESTER COMMUNITY COLLEGE PRESENTS VICTORIAN CHRISTMAS SHOW ON DECEMBER 3

Westchester Community College will celebrate the Christmas spirit with a presentation of A Victorian Christmas by the Tartan Terrors on Saturday, December 3 at 8:00 p.m. in the Academic Arts Theatre. These Canadian Celtic performers take traditional Celtic music and dance, mix it with rock and roll, and blend it with their own unique Scottish comedy.

The holidays will reach a new hilarious spirit with mischievous literary creations by Charles Dickens and others which will give audiences a lesson in Victorian Christmas traditions. A two-time World Champion Bagpiper, top-ranked Highland dancers, musicians, and comedians will exhilarate the audience. Who said "Jingle Bells" can't be played on bagpipes? Ring in the Yule, Victorian style, with a joyous evening sprinkled with warmth and wit.

"The Terrors possess a charisma and enthusiasm that the audience responds to with increased participation. Their CD, Scots On The Rocks, consists of superb musicianship and broad humor of equal measure." (Earth Times Magazine). With their emphasis on fun and frolic, the Tartan Terrors not only bring century old pipe tunes to the forefront of their shows, but also introduce audiences to little known classic Scottish songs and vignettes.

Tickets for A Victorian Christmas are $20 (general admission) and $18 (children/students/seniors). For tickets or information on this and many other exciting cultural events, please call 914-606-6262.
