Dave_95

Graduating HS this year. Looking for an affordable college in the area. I've heard good things about Westchester Community College. Any thoughts?

#HighQualityEducation

@Dave_95: Great school. The degree you earn will be widely respected by four-year schools and employers. Do you plan to transfer your credits toward a bachelor's? Or are you going straight into a career? Either way... smart choice by starting at WCC.

#Affordability

@Dave_95: We have to be smart with our money. Westchester Community College is affordable because as a state school it's partially funded by taxpayer dollars. Nearly every dollar spent on tuition is matched by both the county and the state. So in the end we're getting 3x the education we're paying for!

#Affordability

@PKChumley: More than 30% of their credit degree students receive financial aid, and the college Foundation provides more than $1M in scholarships every year! I've got it all worked out... first I'm going for my associate's, then I'm transferring my credits toward a bachelor's degree at another school. I'm saving more than $40K this way.

#TheCollegiateExperience

@Dave_95: I've been a professor at the college for 15+ years. My students not only benefit from our outstanding faculty (ahem), they also enjoy getting the TRUE college experience. More than just a couple of concrete buildings and a parking lot, our beautiful 218-acre campus has modern facilities that are comparable to what you'll find at private colleges across the country. Visit our YouTube channel or drop by the campus to see for yourself.

#SoNotHighSchool

@Dave_95: When I graduated HS and came to Westchester Community College, I was ready for a change! I took the courses required toward my major, but also a few for fun. Stagecraft, Modern Film, Creative Writing, Watercolor, Web Design—it was hard to choose. The list of courses is impressive...something for everyone for sure!

#ExceptionalFaculty

@Dave_95: The faculty at Westchester Community College is made up of experienced professionals. I heard that from a number of people before I enrolled. Now I know it firsthand!

#AcademicSupport

@Dave_95: I've connected with the head of the college's new Veterinary Technology program. All set to start next fall. I'm excited, but a little nervous about the required writing courses. Fortunately the college provides academic support in math, the sciences, reading and writing, languages, and just about everything else. Peer and senior tutors are available and connecting with a faculty mentor is easy.

#Convenience

@Dave_95: The main campus is right in the middle of Westchester, but classes are also offered at ten other locations in Westchester and Putnam. The college website shows in Yonkers, White Plains, Peekskill, Mount Vernon, New Rochelle, Ossining, Mahopac, Port Chester and Shrub Oak. I don't always have access to a car, so I called their Online Education office. Now I'm taking most of my classes online. And when I drive in, I share rides through the college's rideshare program.
