Westchester Community College is pleased to announce the February 2020 start of a new program based at its Center for the Digital Arts, Peekskill Extension Center location. This is the only such certificate program in Historic Preservation offered at a community college in New York State. The program provides training in Historic Preservation for students interested in historic site management, fundraising, research, building trades and more.

Training is also provided for working professionals looking to hone their skills and earn credentials in this expanding field.

Courses required towards completion of the certificate include Introduction to Historic Preservation, American Architectural History, and Historic Preservation Field Work I & II. Students will benefit from courses that are located in the heart of the Peekskill Historic District in the magnificent Hudson River Valley.

Field work courses will be held at Westchester County historic sites as well as at related businesses in the county and beyond. Classes will begin this coming February 2020 for the Spring semester.
